

FAMILY MEDIATION
A Peaceful Solution

WHAT IS "FAMILY MEDIATION"?-
Juliana is a successful and compassionate Mediator. She first became a certified Mediator in 1990, where she worked in the Bronx Small Claims Court. Juliana is also a Family Law Attorney with over 25 years experience in the field. "I highly recommend that couples considering divorce or separation consider whether Mediation is right for them. This process keeps the family out of court, results in a written agreement that both parties crafted, and takes less of a financial and emotional toll on the family unit than the traditional divorce through litigation model."

WHAT IS THE PROCESS? The first step is to determine that Mediation is right for you. Contact the office to set up a free initial consultation to discuss the Mediation process. Next, book the package that works best for you. During each Mediation session, Juliana meets with both parties. There are no other attorneys involved in the process. During work sessions, Juliana helps the parties achieve a full resolution of all relevant issues. The final step is a written settlement agreement.

HOW DOES THIS TIE IN WITH SEPARATION OR DIVORCE? The final agreement constitutes a valid written Separation Agreement, recognized by New York State Law. The agreement can easily be converted into a Judgment of Divorce, with the parties either using the Uncontested Divorce packet provided by New York State online for free and paying the necessary filing fees; or the parties may wish to retain an attorney to convert the separation agreement into a Judgment of Divorce.
